At Rafiki Technologies, we don't offer one-size-fits-all IT solutions

The automotive industry has its own unique sets of challenges, and it requires software solutions specific to the work you do. Our commitment to you is to give you the IT you need, and that often means downsizing and streamlining what you already have. Our team of computer support specialists will assess and modify your systems into a well-oiled, highly efficient machine that will save you time, money, and space.

How we position your company for success

- Our deep understanding of the main operating applications (Dealership Management Systems) allows us to make it work as efficiently as possible within all your business applications.
- We offer support and consulting services specific to the demands of the modern Dealerships (including keylocks, cameras, telephony, custom pc monitor setups, etc.)
- The ability to quickly build dynamic solutions for urgent needs, long-term goals, and strategic planning.
- Ability to provide security and needs analysis for leading Dealership Systems to maintain uptime and quality of service.
- 24/7/365 support.
